

My mission is still to graduate from Full Sail University with a G.P.A. of 3.75 or higher; I am currently at 3.83 (Statistics brought it down from a 3.9). I still have the desire and drive to be my best, and helping others out when they need it, because I have been helped by my fellow students so many times, when I have been stuck or had a hard time getting started. I have and will continue to spend however long it takes to perfect and assignment, be it code for a class, a presentation, or a response to a discussion post. I have always strived for the A+ and though I haven't always achieved it, I have learned from those deficiencies, and what I need to do to improve. I will always continue to strive to be my best in everything I do, be it writing code, cooking a meal, or be productive member of my community.

TEM Mission Statement

My mission is to graduate from Full Sail University with a Bachelor's of Science degree with a G.P.A. of 3.75 or higher. I will do this with my adaptability, desire, and by being the best. My adaptability will be shown in learning from criticism, if and when something should go wrong my ability to work around it, and working with others that I may not get along with. My desire will be shown, by going above and beyond in almost everything I do, spending hours perfecting assignments and myself, and by doing assignments and not procrastinating even when there are more enjoyable things to be doing. I will show I am being my best by, striving for the A+ on every assignment, helping my fellow students reach their full potential, because to me being the best isn't just about yourself it's about helping those around you, and should I fall short, ask where I can improve, what I could have done better, because to be the best you must always look for ways to improve.
